Commercial Real Estate	Jennifer Bloodworth				Chair	Chair	Ashley McCrae is the likely successor to Jennifer Bloodworth as Chair. Last year, neither Martin nor Burt wanted to serve as Chair of this committee after Adele Stone. Ellie Taft was previously very active with the Section and needed to stop when she changed jobs. Her new employer, FP&L, is encouraging her involvement.

Condominium and Planned Development Law Certification Review Course	Sandra Krumbein		Co-Chair	Co-Chair	Chair	Off	Sandra Krumbein would like to serve as Vice Chair of the Condo Committee, but does not want to serve as chair of this committee at the same time. After the 2020 Review course is held, we will likely move one of the current vice chairs to chair for 2020-2021.
	Jane Cornett				Co-Vice Chair
	Christine Ertl				Co-Vice Chair
Condominium and Planned Development	Bill Sklar	Chair	Chair	Chair	Co-Chair	Co-Chair	Joe Adams was anticipated to be sole Chair for 2020-2021. Alex Dobrev seems to be losing interest. Really need some depth of bench here. Section leadership will encourage Shawn Brown to continue improving on "playing well with others".

Brown, Shawn sbrown@kbrlegal.com	RP	13		4/4 2/2	3/4 2/2	Y	Y	- I am active and participate in the Condominium and Planned Development Committee, Real Property Litigation Committee and Real Property Problems Study Committee. I am chair of the Condominium Committee's safe harbor subcomm and chaired the Condominium Committee's arbitration submcom. I am also the Condominium Committee's representative to the Lender Finance subcomm revising Sections 697.07 and 702.10 - I am a member of the Hillsborough County Bar Ass'n and its own RPPT: section. I gave the 13th circuit's real property legislative an case law update at the CLE the 13th Circuit ALMs put on in June and was attended by over 30 lawyers and judges. I am in the process of working with the lead ALM and attorneys from the Fla. Bar to put a CLE on in 2020 for lawyers and law students regarding ethical obligations and how to avoid violating Bar rules and being subject to discipline. - I attend the local HCBA functions whenever scheduling permits. Since joining a new firm this year, I have made a concerted effort to get attorneys within the firm who are Section members more involved and get those attorneys who are not section members to join. - The most common way I have worked to get new Section members involved is by participating in local CLE programs and other "meet and greet" events where I can	Need input from Exec Comm	Y discuss the section and talk with section members, both new and non-active, about being involved and the benefits of involvements. I also discuss the benefits of section membership and involvement with any of the attorneys I have against in a case if I know they are not actively involved and routinely practice in real estate matters. • I helped put on and then present at the 13th circuit's inaugural CLE program. I have also participated at law school events and working with the lead LAM to provide other CLE style programs to local section members • One of the best ways would be to get the email addresses of local section members and create a list serve that would allow for dissemination of information from the section and also allow for an informal way of locate section members who are not active to identify those section members who are active and facilitate communication • The local free CLE programs that we are putting together are a good way to get section members to gather, get informed about the latest information and updates from the section and network with active section members. The first program that we put on here was a tremendous success and we are looking to provide more of these CLE programs to bring Section members together.

								served as panelist several time at annual PBCBA probate trust and guardianship CLE. I was appointed as Session Coordinator for the Guardianship Session at 2017 and 2018 Bench Bar Conference, where I also served as panelist • I actively encouraged my fellow committee members and judges of the Probate Division of the 15th circuit to join the section, attend Executive Council meetings and attend the many great CLEs offered by the section. I provide an update on the section's projects, proposed legislation and scheduled events of interest • I take every opportunity I have to encourage practitioners and judges in the 15th circuit to be involved in the Section and have been successful in recruiting numerous practitioners and a few judges as members of our section. At Executive Council meetings and section events, I always make an effort to make new members, guests and law students feel welcome and encourage them to get more involved in the section. • I have only been and ALM for 5 months but believe my work as chair of the PBCBA Probate and Guardianship Comm and as subcomm chair in the Probate and Trust Litigation and Guardianship, power of attorney and advance direction comm have demonstrated that I have been a productive member of the section and representative in my circuit. • Work with PBCBA to announce section

								- I attended the first semi-annual meeting of our circuit ALMs and helped plan a networking event with the Section for St. Pete and Cleawater Bar Association. - Because an ALM on 7/1/9, prior to that I was already finding where I could fit in and help the section. - I suggest that the website of the RPPTL section should include a link for each event that would create and allow a registrant to add the event as an item to outlook calendar. This could even include the option to add the CLE events to exec. Council meetings all at once as a recurring event, which would make it easier for section members to plan and participate in section events - I suggest a twitter page for RPPTL: to include reminders with links to register for committee and exec. Council meeting in the tweets. The Twitter pages does an excellent job of communicating updates in the law and CLE events but should add dates and links to register for committee and executive council meetings. This will encourage more section members to not only follow legislative and case law updates and find out about CLE events, but also to be aware of and become more action in the section committees and attend meetings.

								people in my circuit to promote the section. - I am currently working on a project in the 6th circuit to host a social gathering after a CLE seminar in Pinellas county. I am also active in events at Stetson and Cooley Law and events that are joint with the 11th circuit. - Having quarterly socials with our circuit would be a great way to provide information and get attorneys who are not currently involved more excited to join our section meetings. - Sponsor local bar events (probate luncheons or roundtables) so an ALM can speak for a few minutes to give updates re section events. If sponsorship is not permitted, then maybe have a local bar liason who is dedicated to giving up dates to local bars.

							Jacksonville bar, assisting in past years with the local chili cook off and other social events, I am also a member of the Chester Bedell Inn of Court as a Barrister. • Recently, I have been working with J. Van Lenten to help develop a plan to create more participation and interest from NE Florida attorneys in RPPTL. • Assisting J. Van Lenten with outreach plan to NE Fla. Attorneys. Our goals are to coordinate member events, CLEs and have active email communications. Attorneys in our area are used to this type of activity at the local bar level, and we hope to feed off of that into increased RPPTL focused participation • A goal with be to include active RPPT: members and non-members alike in the early stages of outreach. The hope is that casting a wide net will create interest and a higher level of participation. • In NE Fla. communication is minimal, so I believe implementing a plan of outreach is the primary step that need to be taken to not only connect NE Florida practitioners but connect NE Fla with the rest of the state • Identifying and establishing outreach initiatives to young attorneys and law school students is also important. A mailer or email as an introduction to RPPTL to recent graduates or those taking the bar could be an option.

							As ALM, I would continue these efforts and work with fellow ALMs and members in my area to do the same, including specifically targeting your attorneys in our practice. - I have helped several members from south Florida get involved in RPPTL, two of whom have been selected as fellows (S. Abukjodeir and L. de la Riva). I am involved in activities at the Univ. of Miami Law School and my local bar and always speak very highly of the benefits of participation in RPPTL. - RPPTL app – the app is really only useful during meetings but (technology/funding permitting) it may be useful to have features to help members create discussion groups/forums and share new appellate opinions affecting our practice. This could also be useful for committee chairs to better organize and track the work of their subcomm. Surveys could be managed on the app as well. Local networking events.

							University College of Law • I would continue to stay engaged in the Section and the Local bar assoc. I will also work with students and judges to inform them of RPPTL initiatives and events. • I would make a phone call and send an email requesting a coffee meeting or lunch. I would also encourage attendance to a meeting and invite them to a committee I serve in. Be a friend to them at the meeting, so that they don't feel alone or lost • Produce a newsletter – maybe quarterly that gives members of the Section upcoming events, news (local), and maybe meeting details. • Be visible and reach out to members either by phone or in person; be accessible. I think a quarterly newsletter will help to facilitate better communication.

							• Very active contributor on the comm listserv, active contributor during in-person and remote meetings and have been active contributor o research, analysis and commentary as part of the subcomm on UHPA. Active on listserv for other subcomm as above • I have not been active in my local bar association as of this time. Instead, I've been almost exclusively focused on my clients and casework since commencing my practice up until I began to attend RPPTL meeting. I do see an opportunity with the ALMs to liaise between the RPPTL section and local bar by providing RPPTL updates to local bar, soliciting assistance with RPPTL projects and providing invitation and guidance to potential new RPPTL attendees • Understand that the ALM section obtains and provides a list a new section members – a relatively small list – so phone calls would be ideal. Presentations and local bar meetings should prove helpful. To people interested – largely a function of informing those potential members of what we do at the Executive Council gatherings and helping them find on another in the local area. If I do a good job of it, those with genuine interest in the work we do would be interested in involvements. • Presentation of RPPTL Section updates at local bar meetings could go a long way to phone call, to be the most effective way of reaching out and encouraging new SCBA members to get involved in bar activities. I think the same strategy could be applied to new section members as well as to offer yourself as a resource for section members attending their first few meetings. When I joined the Section, I found it difficult to learn how to get involved without the help of a current member. Perhaps a new member packet would be helpful for members who are not part of the Executive Council, information about upcoming meetings is very delayed.
